ST. JOHN'S, NL
CANADA

St. John's, a city on Newfoundland island off Canada's Atlantic coast, is the capital of Newfoundland and Labrador province. Its harbour was settled by the British in the 1600s. Downtown is known for its colourful row houses. Above the city is Signal Hill with walking trails and the site of the first transatlantic wireless communication, Cabot Tower, which commemorates John Cabot's discovery of Newfoundland.

FISHERIES AND MARINE INSTITUTE

As a campus of Memorial University of Newfoundland, the Fisheries and Marine Institute is Canada's most comprehensive centre for education, training, applied research and industrial support for the ocean industries. Located on the edge of the Atlantic Ocean, we are one of the most respected centres of marine learning and applied research in the world.

SIGNAL HILL CAMPUS

Memorial University's Signal Hill Campus is a dynamic hub for collaborating, learning and connecting. It is a place for fostering social and economic innovation, professional and organizational development, civic engagement, and public dialogue.

THE LAUNCH AT HOLYROOD

The Launch is the Marine Institute's hub of ocean innovation, discovery, and leadership, providing a collaborative and inclusive space for Canada's ocean stakeholders and rights holders to operationalize the vital technology needed to support ocean health and economic prosperity from coast-to-coast-to-coast.

ACCOMMODATIONS

Downtown St. John's offers a variety of hotels, inns, and vacations homes, making it easy to commute to Signal Hill campus. Explore amazing attractions, architecture, music, and cuisine in one of North America's premier entertainment, shopping and culturally historic districts.
